Start with the end in sight.

Transition 2 (T2) is committed to supporting young adults with Learning Disabilities, Severe Learning Difficulties and/or Autism aged 18-25 as they move onto meaningful and sustainable opportunities in adulthood, helping them to realise their potential and achieve genuine life outcomes in their local community.

Learners follow individually bespoke learning pathways based on person-centred long-term targets which encourage them to 'Start with the end in sight'.

Individual Pathways

“We are like snowflakes, everyone is individual, everyone is unique” Zak, 20

At Transition2 we offer full-time and part-time bespoke learning pathways based on the outcomes of person centred planning, individual support needs and long-term goals.

We also offer short courses which learners can fund themselves using their personal budgets. Learners may choose to follow accredited programmes to gain certificates in their chosen subjects or opt for less formal skill development through carefully chosen opportunities and experiences within our College or the local community.

We believe it is important for our young people to be as well prepared for adulthood as possible. We try hard to link up learners, families, carers, specialist services, local partners and regional/national organisations to create a network of support with the vision that together we achieve more.

I want to work

Some of our learners want to develop specific vocational skills so they can work towards getting a job in the future.

We have our own small hair and beauty salon, allotment and large kitchen, and we also know lots of people in the local community who can help you to gain the skills you need in order to find a job you enjoy.

Areas of learning

This is me!

We believe it is important to get to know yourself really well at this stage of your life so that you can understand more about the future you would like to have and how to get the support you need to make it happen.

Perhaps you find busy or noisy places challenging or maybe you are trying to take more responsibility for your health ... life as a young adult is all about learning more ways to help yourself, understand the world around you and become more independent.

Functional Skills

Here at T2 we offer classroom-based lessons in literacy, numeracy and ICT but mainly work with letters and numbers in lots of practical situations like cooking or going to the cinema so that you learn the things you really need to know for your future.

Whether you want to save your money in the bank or spend your money in the shops, we can support you to gain the skills to become more independent and also to understand the responsibilities this brings.

Community Skills

Being a part of our community is really important to us here at T2 so we encourage our learners to go out and experience all the exciting things on offer in the local community.

Whether you want to travel independently on public transport, become more confident at the shops or learn to look after yourself in and around the local community, we can support you to practise and develop your skills.

Short courses in this area of learning include Independent Travel Training and Communicating for Shopping and Leisure.

Learning for living

Do you want to learn how to cook your own lunch or bake your favourite cake? Perhaps you want to develop your skills in the home so one day you can get your own place or live more independently?

Here at T2 we offer lots of opportunities to gain confidence in cooking, home management and independent living skills, including important lessons about how to keep yourself healthy and safe.
